

RESOURCES

Overview

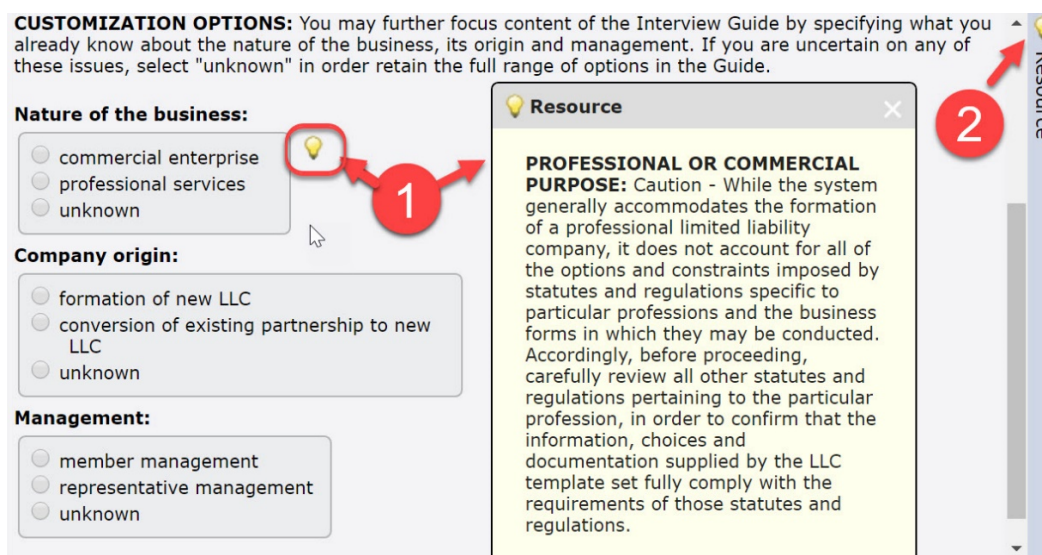

The LLC Formation Tools include jurisdiction-specific resources (helps) that illuminate the law and legal considerations associated with the various questions included in interviews, interview guides and interview summaries. After users have identified a “current” jurisdiction (state), the LLC Tools automatically display resources that conform with the statutes and practice of that jurisdiction.

Resources provide just in time legal guidance when navigating through interviews and are included as endnotes in interview guides and summaries.

Resources in Interviews

A lightbulb icon appears in interviews next to questions that have question specific resources attached to them. These resources display as pop-up windows as illustrated bellows.

Click on a lightbulb icon (see “1” below) to see a question specific help or the lightbulb icon in the upper right corner for a general help (see “2” below).

Resources in Interview Guides & Summaries

Resource endnotes that are identical to those available in interviews are automatically included when interview guides and summaries are generated.

A “best practice” for students using interview guides and interview summaries is to carefully review the endnotes in advance of initial client meetings. This practice over time will result in a sharper understanding of the issues discussed in those meetings, more effective and productive exchanges with clients and better decisions.
